- “Corbin provides a fun and productive work environment that allows for growth and development. I think the organization has fostered an extremely cohesive team of hard-working and friendly people who all push to make Corbin succeed.”
 - “Corbin values each employee and gives everyone an opportunity to succeed in a challenging but friendly environment. People treat one another with respect, and there is a refreshing lack of internal politics and unhealthy competition.”
 - “Individuals are allowed/encouraged to be themselves. This has created a unique and diverse work environment ... I am constantly growing in my position, taking on new responsibilities/perfecting current ones. Everyone I interact with at Corbin is pleasant and willing to help out, even if they are busy.”

BACK AT IT: Corbin staffers celebrated their first work event since the start of the pandemic. The company provided food and drinks, and employees enjoyed the services of a sketch artist and tarot card reader.
